MoDOT Signs to Report Roadway Fatality Numbers

Dynamic message signs will provide weekly updates of Missouri fatalities

Motorists traveling across Missouri rely on MoDOT's electronic roadside message signs to provide important highway information.

Now, a new type of safety message will appear. The boards will report the number of people who died on Missouri roads so far this year, and the percentage of those people who were unbelted. New Message

Motorists Are Reminded to Drive Sober or Get Pulled Over

Missouri law enforcement to participate in national campaign

The new substance-impaired driving message is clear and simple: Drive Sober or Get Pulled Over.

Approximately 240 Missouri state and local law enforcement agencies will participate in the national effort to deter substance-impaired driving by conducting statewide sobriety checkpoints and DWI saturation patrols Aug. 17 through Sept. 3. Drive Sober

▶ HAVE YOU SEEN THIS?

I'd Like to Buy a Vowel

Have you ever noticed that there is no Route Q in Missouri? Nor is there a Route G or Route S. While it may seem like someone spilled their alphabet soup on a Missouri roadmap, the truth is that some letters are never used to name roads. Lettered Routes
